Liverpool declined 3-32d on spot, with sales of 7,000 bales; futures declined 2 points, but recovered ½ point of the loss. Manchester was quiet.

The rise in cotton was due to predictions of colder weather in Texas and the Southwest, heavy rains in Alabama, Georgia, and the Carolinas, liberal exports and sympathy with a more cheerful tone at the stock exchange.

First prices were lower, owing to disappointing cables, liberal receipts, weaker spot markets and general liquidation. Later on commission houses had orders to buy and Wall Street and New Orleans made purchases, and there was less pressure to sell. The general opinion is the next monthly Government report.
